37th Annual Columbus Chapter Annual Seminar and Exhibits

Providing Quality Education for Industry Professionals and Showcasing the latest security Products

The Agenda

- 8:00 am Registration, Exhibits Open (Continental Breakfast in Exhibit Hall)
- 9:00 am Welcome, Chris Wilson Vice Chairman, Columbus Chapter, ASIS
- 9:05 am Session 1: “You’re not Nuts! This is a Frightening Time to be a Security Professional”
Debbie and Mike Gardner—The Survive Institute
- Navigating serious security responsibilities with upgraded courage and confidence. Survive Institute teaches Calm, Concise, Explicit Self-Defense techniques that are proven to work. If you’ve been surfing the net, you’ve likely found other self-defense websites that have actually scared you as you read. Odds are they are they are great people, great credentials, great training ... but something about their “packaging” doesn’t connect.*
- 10:15 am Exhibit Review - Coffee Break
- 11:00 am Session 2: “Predicting and Preventing Violent Behavior ”
John D. Byrnes, Founder and CEO Center for Aggression Management
- The Center for Aggression Management has scientifically validated a process to reliably prevent such issues as workplace violence, bullying, verbal abuse, sexual and other forms of harassment, discrimination, militancy, and even terrorism by providing training and systems that prepare individuals and organizations to recognize and stop aggression*
- 12:00 pm Exhibit Review
- 12:30 pm Luncheon – Keynote Speaker- History, Human Rights and the Power of One
Kenneth B. Morris, Jr.; Founder and President of the Frederick Douglass Family Initiatives
- Mr. Morris is a direct descendant of Frederick Douglass, the man called “the father of the civil rights movement” and of Booker T. Washington, the famed educator and founder of Tuskegee Institute.
- 1:30 pm Exhibit Review
- 2:15 pm Session 3: “ The Art of Termination”
Stan Partlow, Chief Security Officer, American Electric Power
Obtain an understanding of good practical advice for the termination of employees and the pitfalls of terminations that go awry.
- 3:30 pm Concluding Remarks, Door Prizes, Program Adjourned
- 3:50 pm Session 4: “Security Design Focus Group” The Principles and Lessons for designing and implementing Security Video Systems The Panel: Jim Bodi, Hewlett Packard Enterprise; Dan Lolli, Director of Operations MAPFE Stadium; Greg Kemper, PSP Genetec; Paul Redmond, PSP SRMC, LLC; Rick Zies, PSP SIEMENS
The panel will speak from various perspectives and extensive experience to the design of both large and small systems and address both new and legacy system implementations. (this session is open to attendees and exhibitors)
